

FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

Cost?

There is no set fee to minister in church services. This is a matter left between each church and God. Fees for special events, conferences or conventions are discussed upon invitation.

Do we need special Equipment?

No. Aliki brings her own A/V equipment, which is set up and operated with little intrusion on existing A/V teams.

In what setting can Aliki share?

Aliki has ministered to small groups through to events of 5000 people. This takes many forms: bringing the Sunday morning message, concerts, women's ministry, high school chapel services or special events.

Has Aliki shared in our denomination/church tradition before?

The answer is probably yes. Aliki has shared powerfully and sensitively across the broad spectrum of church traditions, with both leaders and congregates deeply encouraged.

In a typical presentation Aliki will share & challenge from scripture just as much as sing. The songs are "punctuation marks" to a strong biblical content. Church traditions/culture are always considered when bringing a presentation. Aliki will often dovetail into the current 'season' of the church, or requests of the ministry team... something very appreciated by pastors and leaders. Whether presenting for 20 minutes or over an hour the content is shared powerfully yet with spiritual sensitivity.

MISSION

Described as "down to earth" and "captivating" is an Australian ministry with a reputation for connecting with people on an intimate level. Over the past 10 years Aliki has refreshed and inspired congregations and church leaders alike, from international conferences to small rural gatherings.

The cover of this unique ministry is that of passionate, award winning contemporary music. Under the cover is what people discover when Aliki shares from the platform. Through a dynamic tapestry of multimedia, music, personal testimony and faithfulness to God's word- Australians are being enriched by more than a "concert".

With a spiritual and physical base in Brisbane, Aliki and her husband Rob tour Australia as a full time faith ministry. This passionate call has touched the red dust of "Bourke" to the pavement of inner city streets.

"Aliki is much more than a great voice, she is a minister. Her music, energy, wisdom and presence moves her audience... I was blown away!"

Pastor
Doug Feilds
Saddleback
Church (USA)

MINISTRY IN STORY SCRIPTURE SONG

"We believe that "flowers will indeed blossom in the desert". As we work in partnership with God, many individuals and our home church it is our privilege to watch this promise fulfilled"

Rob Flodine

Aliki's use of stories and particularly personal testimony is a well crafted tool in her communication. Her transparency in sharing 'a life discovering God' draws people to focus on Him.

Captivating, unique & professional... the video based backdrop to each song has high impact. Each presentation is specifically tailored to the song, emphasizing scripture and using powerful imagery.

Through this tapestry two things consistently take place. Firstly the lines of demographic and denomination are blurred, resulting in softened hearts to receive something personal from God. Secondly, time slips past unnoticed.
